

What Is Wrong With Our Youth? Proverbs 22:6: Ephesians 6:1-4

Children see what parents have done and have not done. You are training them to do everything that you do.

“We have failed our children.” – Reginald B. Scandrett

We want teachers and law enforcement to do the jobs that a parent should be doing.

Broken children are simply saying, “Help Me!”

Employers are looking for a mind, not a body.

Parents are parents for their children not their friends.

“Whatever happened to the village of correction.” – Reginald B. Scandrett

“What has happened to our households that they are irreparably broken?” – Reginald B. Scandrett

We are looking at walking bodies where the head is not in place.

“My misalignment will put me with misaligned people.” – Reginald B. Scandrett

“Life is all about choices, regardless of where you came from or what you’ve been through.” – Reginald B. Scandrett

Your choices can change generational courses. What is your choice?

There is nothing wrong with being smart.

We are dealing with angry children.

“Young folk, you gotta do the work!” – Reginald B. Scandrett

A true friend will tell you things you do not want to hear.

Parents, be careful who you place your children around.

It's not too late to turn it around!
